

ABC Utah & Green Education Services are proud to present:

LEED Green Associate Overview & Exam Prep

An 8 Hour Workshop on Green Building Principles & LEED Core Concepts

Where: Franklin Covey (in the Hyrum Smith Auditorium) located at 2650 Decker Lake Blvd in Salt Lake City

When: March 30, 2010

9:00am - 5:30pm with a 30 minute lunch break

Cost: Before March 10 - $225 / $275 (member/non-member)

March 10 or later - $325 / $375

Details: U.S. Green Building Council has made a number of recent changes to the LEED examination required for accreditation. 'Green Associate' is the Tier 1 achievement within the USGBC's new LEED Version 3 three-tiered accreditation system, and signifies a strong knowledge base of the principles of LEED Sustainable Design without the technical requirements of LEED AP.

Why should you attend this seminar?

- 1.) Unless you have past experience on a LEED project OR are employed in a sustainable field of work, it is a mandatory requirement that you attend a Green Associate Seminar before USGBC will issue you a LEED test date.
- 2.) While Green Associate accreditation is not necessary for existing LEED AP's, all AIA members who attend our Green Associate Seminar will receive 8.0 HSW credits (4 of which satisfy the Sustainable Design requirement)! Non-AIA members can use our certificate of completion for self-reporting the 8 contact hours of instruction.
- 3.) Green Education Services' Green Associate Seminar is an interactive, intimate and intense collaborative learning experience including analysis of real-world examples of LEED principles and certified projects; study techniques that will help you become exam-prepared in as little as 20 hours; supplementary study materials; ongoing phone/email support from your instructor until your test date; and more!

All study materials and 400 practice exam questions are included. Exam is NOT included with registration.
